WAS DAVID RIGHT?

A very much perturbed lady in a conversation the other day expressed the opinion that her recent dealings had forced her to the conclusion that no person was to be trusted. Naturally her untoward experiences had so filled her with distrust of mankind in general and a number of them in particular until she was in the same frame of mind as David, the psalmist, when he said: "All men are liars."

NOT ALL LIARS

Now it happens that this same lady occupies a public position and it is regrettable that her faith has been undermined, for there are many good and truthful people left in the world. If there was foundation for her belief then the forces of evil would be in the ascendancy, and the law of might instead of the rule of right would be in the supremacy.

It is true that many people do lie, or sidestep the truth, but they are fortunately not in the majority, despite the belief of the lady to the contrary. As she is an earnest seeker after the truth and apparently is not successful in getting it I am going to play the role of good Samaritan and point out how the greatly desired result can be achieved.

A SUGGESTION

Scopolamine is the answer! If she can "mellow" to give the people she desires to extract information from a shot of this powerful serum she will get the truth and nothing but the truth. It is said to make the sub-conscious mind more active than the conscious, thereby stimulating a person to answer questions freely and truthfully.

Just to avoid the impression that I am indulging in levity it is only necessary to state that scopolamine is one of the means of crime detection used in the Scientific Crime Detection Laboratory of North-

RICHMOND MAN FOUND SUICIDE

Authorities yesterday were at a loss to ascribe a motive for the suicide of Jesse P. Klein, 44, of 631 Twentieth street, who was found dead in his machine, parked on the Tank Farm hill highway Sunday afternoon by state traffic officers.

Klein was sitting in the back seat of his sedan, a length of hose connecting the exhaust pipe and leading into the car through the floor boards. Death was caused by inhaling deadly gases from the running motor.

Mrs. Berdine Klein, his widow, told officials investigating the case that her husband had been in good spirits, but that he had been in poor health. He left Mrs. Klein and their son, Jack, 7, on Sunday afternoon, telling them that he was going for a ride. Shortly after six o'clock Sunday evening Officers R. H. Trembath and August Schutt, of the state highway police, found the parked car with Klein sitting in the seat. He had been dead several hours. No suicide notes were found.

Deceased had been employed by the local Greenway Driveaway Ford service for the past two years. Klein had lived here seven years, coming here from Tiffin, Ohio. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Klein, of Tiffin, a sister, who lives in the east and his widow and son. He was a member of the 368th Engineers during the World War and was a member of the Tiffin Masons.

The body is at the Wilson & Kratzer chapel where funeral services and an inquest are pending.

LEAGUE IS SHOCKED BY ARMS PLEAS

GENEVA, April 15. (UP)—The League of Nations Council session on German disarmament tonight by demanding the right to re-fortify The Dardanelles in Asia Minor if other defeated nations are allowed to return to arms equality.

The declaration was one of a number of swiftly occurring incidents marking the initial Council session which added to the uncertainty and uneasiness in Europe.

OPPOSES NAZIS

Others included: 1.—Denmark and Poland frankly opposed France's demands for sharp criticism of Germany in a resolution attacking the Reich's rearmament program.

2.—Britain was reported ready to give France armed assistance if Germany declares the demilitarized Rhineland zone. An authoritative source put this interpretation on the Anglo-Italian reaffirmation of their guarantee of peace in Western Europe under the Locarno treaty of 1925.

POSTPONES ACTION

3.—The Council postponed action on Germany, devoting the initial session to arranging arbitration of the Italian-Abyssinian border disputes in East Africa.

4.—The Little Entente and Balkan Entente nations in Southeastern Europe issued a communique tonight after secret conferences, cordially approving the "Big Three" stress accord for unity of action against further unilateral action.

City Has Eye On Work Fund

Out of the four billion dollar appropriation recently made by Congress the sum of $800,000,000 has been earmarked for street and grade crossings, and of this amount, $39,000,000 will be allotted to the State of California.

This was the information furnished the council last evening by Richard Graves, executive secretary of the California League of Municipalities.

Development of projects which could be submitted to the proper authorities was urged. City Manager J. A. McVittie and City Engineer E. A. Hoffman, have a number of improvements that are about ready for submission.

Another Local Home Is Robbed

Richmond's burglar, whose activities during the past several weeks, have resulted in the theft of small change and articles from local homes, yesterday robbed the home of Mrs. F. L. Goodrich, 227 Sixteenth street.

Mrs. Goodrich returned home last night and found that her house had been ransacked. A sum of $2.50 had been stolen from her husband's coat and a safety razor was missing.

Several boys who were playing in the neighborhood, told Mrs. Goodrich that they saw a "middle aged man" unlock the screen door in the rear of the house and enter the place.

Council To Act On Dairy Law Saturday

Just what is to be done in regard to the request for rezoning of the city for dairy purposes, will be definitely determined by the council at a special meeting to be held next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

This topic occupied most of the time of the council at its meeting last evening, and there was much argument on the subject.

The present ordinance provides that it is unlawful to keep more than two cows within the city limits, while residents of the south side and the Annex district are asking for four zones in which cows could be kept and the number determined.

MOVE PROTESTED

Representatives of the large dairies near the city, appeared and stated that they thought the same safeguards should surround the small dairy as the large one.

"All that we are asking," said P. Stow of the Richmond Farm "Creamery," is equality. We are living up to the regulations of the city, and every one keeping cows should be made to obey them. Milk is a fine food but a dangerous one unless produced under sanitary conditions."

Dr. C. C. Wing, now with the American Treasury but for some time connected with the Oakland health department, said the city had capable health officials as Richmond had one of the lowest infant death rates in the United States. A child should be fed the

Hans M. Nissen Is Re-Elected Mayor

Hans M. Nissen was re-elected as mayor of El Cerrito by unanimous vote of the council at its meeting Monday night.

Councilman J. R. Beck who placed Nissen's name in nomination said that it took a year to acquaint oneself with the office of mayor and that Nissen should serve another term.

Nominations for W. P. Huber and Louis Navallier were refused by the councilmen. Huber said he had worked under "with the SERA and street department and preferred to devote his time to those activities. Navallier said that he had two years to serve and could not devote his time to the job at present.

UNIONS MAY SPONSOR A LABOR PARTY

SEATTLE, April 15. (UP)—Sponsorship of a union labor party to promote the interests of organized workers is a controversial part of the constitution considered today by 100 delegates of 20 Seattle unions.

The Pacific Central leaders of unions representing 15,000 workers in shipbuilding, waterfront, printing and other industries, perfect organization of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific behind doors barred to the public and the press.

POLITICAL MOVE

The section of the constitution which threw delegates into heated debate reads:

"The Federation shall consider and express its views on all public questions and measures, especially those affecting the interests of the affiliated organizations and the labor movement generally, and shall work toward formation and establishment of a union labor party."

The opening sessions were devoted to examination of credentials and committee work on the proposed constitution.

O'GRADY PRESIDES

Harry Bridges, president of the San Francisco International Longshoremen's Association and director of last year's waterfront strike, thought "all unions should support unions on strike. It's the only chance the working man has. I know all about strikes. They succeed or fail by mass force, and public opinion."

Both Bridges and O'Grady denied reports that Bridges would attempt to seize control of the Federation.

NO ACTION SEEN

"O'Grady and I are both left-winners," said Bridges. "We've got along together so far, and we're not going to start fighting now." J. J. Whitney, representative of the Longshoremen, said "We do not anticipate any action whatever which might lead to a general waterfront strike. This meeting is purely for organization."

His testimony followed that of past defense witnesses in the main, supporting the contention that Mrs. Lamson slipped in the bathtub of the Lamson home, striking her head on the wash basin.

Dr. Kneeshaw, however, admitted under cross-examination that the wounds might have been caused by a single crushing blow from an instrument such as the iron pipe the state insists Lamson used to strike his wife.

He further testified he had witnessed a recent operation in which blood spurted from suddenly severed arteries several feet.

Oil Plant Is Hit By Blaze

Fire caused by a leaking oil pipe did considerable damage at the Richfield Oil plant on the outer harbor late yesterday afternoon, giving local firemen a stiff hour and a half battle before the flames were subdued.

The fire started in a heating plant used to heat fuel oil before it is pumped into tankers. While a tanker was being loaded at the local wharves, the oil feed line is believed to have broken and the waste oil flowed into the heating system, creating a big blaze.

The waste oil, ignited by the flames, spread through a section of the storage plant, but, however, did not get near the oil storage tanks. The flames did, however, threaten other oil feed lines leading to the heating plant.

An alarm was turned in and Engines One and Two of the local fire department responded. Directed by Fire Chief W. P. Cooper, the firemen distinguished the blaze after a grueling battle.

The amount of damage done was not estimated by plant officials.

FUNERAL IS HELD

Last rites were held yesterday morning for the late Mrs. Margaret Accorner, who died last Friday. Services were held at St. Paul's church with entombment at St. Joseph's Mausoleum. The Ryan Funeral Home had charge of the services.

Clear Skies For Today Is Prediction Of Weather Man

Richmond's rainfall figures for the year are above normal, according to a statement made yesterday at the Standard Oil tank farm weather bureau.

So far this season 21.81 inches of rain have fallen, compared with about 13 inches that were reported at this time in 1934. On Sunday 56 inches fell while on Sunday up until 7 o'clock yesterday morning, 11 inches were reported, making a total of 67 inches for the two days.

Although the thermometer is low, the weather bureau believes that the area will not receive further rainfall today.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15. (UP)—Clearing skies tomorrow and Wednesday throughout most of California gave promise tonight that rain-soaked rivers would have opportunity to run off with the latest storm downpour.

A week-end storm matching in spots the severity of last week's storm which caused nearly two dozen deaths and several hundred thousand dollars property damage in California was tapering off tonight.

RIVERS HIGH

Rivers apparently were carrying away the storm waters without difficulty, but were running high. The latest storm left many highways and city basements flooded.

LAMSON AGAIN IS GIVEN AID

SAN JOSE, April 15.—(UP)—Further expert testimony was introduced today by medical witnesses supporting the claim of David Lamson that he did not kill his wife.

Dr. Stanley Kneeshaw, San Jose, declared it his opinion that the head wound which caused Mrs. Lamson's death could have resulted from the "application of a single force" only.

His testimony followed that of past defense witnesses in the main, supporting the contention that Mrs. Lamson slipped in the bathtub of the Lamson home, striking her head on the wash basin.

Dr. Kneeshaw, however, admitted under cross-examination that the wounds might have been caused by a single crushing blow from an instrument such as the iron pipe the state insists Lamson used to strike his wife.

He further testified he had witnessed a recent operation in which blood spurted from suddenly severed arteries several feet.

Store Robbed

A burglar who broke into the Conn Drug Store at Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue some time after midnight last night, stole cigarettes, mechanical pencils, cameras, and other articles, according to a report made to local police early this morning.

The burglar gained entrance by smashing a pane in a rear door, entered a hallway and then smashed a section in a rear door and entered the store.

The robbery was discovered shortly before two o'clock this morning by the police office on the Macdonald avenue beat. Store officials were notified by police. As this was written, the extent of the theft has not been determined. A thorough check-up will be made by store officials later this morning.

COMPROMISE AGREED ON BY SOLONS

WASHINGTON, April 15. (UP)—President Roosevelt has agreed to compromise with Congress on the soldier bonus issue and would sign a bill which Chairman Pat Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, of the Senate Finance committee will introduce tomorrow. Harrison said tonight.

PLAN IS TOLD

1.—Dating of the adjusted service certificates so they would mature in 1938 instead of 1945.

2.—Issuance of Federal negotiable bonds to veterans who desire to cash their certificates immediately.

3.—A declaration of congressional policy that no pension be provided for World War veterans.

HEARINGS PLANNED

Harrison said he hoped to begin hearings on the bill as soon as his committee concludes work on the revised NRA measure, expected the latter part of the week. He indicated the hearings would last only two days.

The Harrison measure, it was reported, differed sharply from the Patman bonus bill passed overwhelmingly by the House. But it was said to represent the full extent to which President Roosevelt

BEARS READY FOR STANFORD IN BIG MEET

BERKELEY, Calif., April 15.—The University of California's chances for victory against Stanford in their annual track meet Saturday apparently rested tonight with little Morris Pollock, No. 2 deer sprinter.

Pollock, who pulled a muscle broad jumping against Michigan Saturday, is confident he will be in shape to go against the Cardinals, but his trainers are doubtful if he will be ready for competition this week.

The injury, at first believed to be a "deep pull" was reported today to be near the surface and not as serious as at first believed.

With Pollock at his best, California will be a heavy favorite to defeat the Cardinals for the first time since 1925, when they won by a score of 82½ to 48½.

Pollock is favored for second places in both sprints for a total of six points, and first in the broad jump for 11 in all. With one to take Pollock's place in either sprints or broad jump, his points would easily furnish the margin of defeat or victory.

Most doubtful points of the meet are in the high hurdles, with Tom Moore, Johnny Woods and Dick Coe of California running against Sammy Klopstock and Kingsbury of Stanford, Moore and Klopstock.

ANGELS WILL DEFEND LEAGUE LEAD IN SOUTH

By United Press

Ready for a four-series stay in their home park, the Los Angeles Angels braced themselves today for strenuous attacks on their Coast League leadership by Seattle, the Hollywood, the Seals and the Missions.

Seattle, after splitting their two game series with San Francisco over the week end, left for Los Angeles today, firmly resolved to knock the Angels from their perch and at the same time improve their own percentage.

With three wins and three losses, the Seattle club is trailing in fourth place in league standings behind the Angels, Oakland and Sacramento.

Following the Angels with their spotless record of eight wins, and no defeats, the Oaks have won four and lost but one game to take a firm hold on second place. In the week end series, the Oaks drubbed Hollywood twice, and are confident they will have little trouble with the Missions in the series starting Tuesday.

The Sacramento Senators, holding down third place with five victories and three defeats, will meet Hollywood at Sacramento Tuesday, hoping to continue the string of victories started in the week end series against the Missions.

The Senators walloped Charles "Gaby" Street's Mission Reds four times in the last series, defeating them by a decisive four to one score in their final game Sunday.

The Portland Ducks, latest victims of the Angels, will meet Frank "Lefty" O'Doul's Seals at San Francisco starting Tuesday, and hope to redeem themselves for their tenuous four straight defeats at the hands of the league leaders in the last series.

With only one victory in seven starts, the Ducks are at present holding down the cellar position with a percentage of .143.

The Missions, with two wins in eight games for a percentage of .250, are giving the Ducks a close run for cellar honors, while San Francisco and Hollywood, with 323 each, complete the lower bracket roster.

have run almost identical times, and the outcome is rated as a toss-up.

Mistake Hanging Probe Continues

SAN QUENTIN, April 15.—A mistake in filing notice of appeal which temporarily would have saved Rush Griffin, 19-year-old Negro from the gallows apparently cost the youth his life, investigators revealed today.

In files of Warden James B. Hollahan's office, a letter containing the death warrant and information that Griffin's case was under appeal were discovered.

At Los Angeles Superior Judge Charles Fricke, who sentenced Griffin, appeared before a grand jury with Arthur Moore, veteran deputy clerk suspended for 30 days in connection with the "mistake hanging," and declared that Moore had received a letter from San Quentin acknowledging receipt of the letter sent Hollahan. The reply was signed by Julian Alco, then acting warden, and initialed with the letter "D," presumably by C. Duffy, secretary to the warden.

and caused new slides. Nine-year-old Harrison McClung was rescued after he had been lost in a violent storm on the slopes of Mt. Tamalpais, where he had lost himself yesterday.

BOY IS RESCUED

More than 250 men, including CCC workers and American Legionnaires scoured the woods during the night.

The boy's chief complaint was "I missed dinner last night and all night I heard hoot-ows."

"While pitching rocks into a creek this morning I fell in," he added. "Boy, was I scared. I threw wads at some bull calves and a big red one got mad and came toward me. Boy, that was scary."

RECORDS BROKEN

The rainfall kept precipitation records in most of the state above normal and in many cases close to all-time records. San Francisco had double precipitation of last year and two inches more than normal.

Reading reported heaviest rainfall for the storm period, 80 inches in 24 hours.

NO FLOODS

Despite general heavy rains through Northern California, Sacramento valley rivers will not regain the dangerous levels of last week, E. H. Fletcher, chief of the Sacramento weather bureau said.

"Stream stages are two feet lower than at the beginning of this storm and only moderate rises will occur. The Sacramento river here, now 23.5 feet, will not exceed 25 feet," he predicted.

Silver Alloy In Bearings Latest Car Development

Not only is there silver in the hills, but also in Pontiac automobiles, says A. E. Washburn of Washburn Brothers, local Pontiac and Buick dealers.

It will be conceded that 18,900 ounces of pure silver is a lot of silver, hoarded or any way you look at it. It conjures up thoughts of bank vaults, buying and selling, or of speculation as to how many dimes, quarters or half dollars that many ounces would make. It might even start the imagination visualizing the number of knives, forks and spoons that could be made from that much silver.

But all speculation of that nature would be wrong in this case. This 18,900 is the number of avoirdupois ounces of pure silver that will go into the silver alloy bearings of 150,000 Pontiac cars this year.

Precious and semi-precious metals like platinum and tungsten have been used extensively in small ignition parts. In fact silver has been used as a plating or a wash for door handles, hardware, vases, etc., of some of the most expensive cars. But this is the first time that one of the principal ingredients of the coin of the realm has been mixed up with iron and steel, oil and grease, or come into direct contact with greasy hands and bodies in a noisy, high speed factory.

If all of this silver went into the "Sams" ten cent pieces it would mean 388,377 of the little coins. It would take a man giving away dimes at the rate of ten a day, more than 65 years to hand out all the thin pieces that would be made from the silver in Pontiac motor bearings in 1935.

Arizona's Dust Storm Is Lifting

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 15.—UP.—The army dust which has lingered since Thursday over Arizona and has touched the border of California was reported lifting today by airport weather bureau officials.

Visibility had increased to 10 miles in most sections of Arizona, although in New Mexico and West Texas it ranged from zero to a quarter mile.

Predictions of unsettled weather and showers from El Paso, Tex., to the Pacific coast brought hopes of relief.

Congress Promises F. D. R. to Pass Bill

WASHINGTON, April 15.—UP.—House leaders, after a poll of the membership, today promised President Roosevelt the kind of a social security bill he wants and arranged to start tomorrow's session an hour early to speed it up.

Or was it that the baseball season opens tomorrow and members will "cut class" about the time the peanut vendors start their barking? A thousand times, no, intimated Speaker J. W. Byrnes.

"The country is getting a little critical of the way Congress is not passing legislation," he said, "especially the way the House of the Senate takes days off. The people want to see something done."

BRITISH AGAIN DODGE DEBT TO UNITED STATES

LONDON, April 15.—UP.—Chancellor of the Exchequer, Neville Chamberlain today presented Great Britain with a $4,000,000,000 balanced budget for 1935-36, completely ignoring the $4,000,000,000 war debt to the United States, and revealing that a large per cent of the entire expenditures in the next year would be for armed defense.

The thin-lipped guardian of the treasury at the same time threw a sop to the populace by restoring government employees' pay cuts, effective July 1, and reducing income taxes in the lower brackets. There is a general election next year.

His budget speech to Parliament therefore was surprisingly buoyant. Chamberlain told the empire that "Britain has recovered 80 per cent of her prosperity." He produced one of the most adroit budgets in years, practically balanced, showing a surplus of 500,000 pounds ($2,425,000) — and with virtually all favors distributed to the poor.

James Maxton, Laborite, in a speech on the Chamberlain budget, ironically commented: "The question of the American debt has gone into that very nice category where it no longer needs be mentioned. That is a very satisfactory way of dealing with our external debts."

"I hope we always will be able to deal with them in the same efficient manner by letting them drop into the limbo of forgotten things."

Oil Land Lease Probe Is Started

SACRAMENTO, April 15.—An official investigation into the leasing of California's fabulously wealthy tideland oil pools to private oil companies was launched today with the appointment of Assemblymen Jones of Montebello, Frazier and Gridley, Minard of Fresno, Phillips of Banning and Rosenthal of Los Angeles to conduct the probe.

Jones said the committee's first step will be to request the University of California to recommend expert geologists to make a survey of the State's tideland oil fields, particularly the rich Huntington Beach pool.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M.D.

Keeping Children's Skins Clean and Dry Is the Only Good Method to Cure Acne

I HAVE already told what steps to take with children from eight to fifteen to prevent acne. It looks like quite a formidable job, but it consists of nothing more than keeping the face thoroughly clean and dry. Most of those who suffer from acne have a thick, oily skin. This must be overcome if we expect to get rid of the trouble. Just why young folks should be pestered with it is easily explained. The whole system is in a formative period and this thick oily skin is often the result of inadequate elimination of an unstable metabolism. Plenty of soap and water is needed.

We must use hot water to remove the excess of oil from the pores, which is the cause of the pimples and black heads. Cold water will not counteract the oil well, but after thorough scrubbing with hot water and by carefully rubbing the skin to remove the only plugs possible, we should use cold water to contract the pores and stimulate the circulation, take away the soap-shine and leave the skin as dry as possible.

If the blackheads and pimples have become plentiful due to neglect and excessive secretion, the only plugs must be removed by squeezing or even opening with a small knife of course being extremely clean and careful about it. Sometimes peroxide may be helpful in removing the plugs, but it bleaches the skin so much that it cannot be used often.

THIS cleansing should be done for a day or two and be followed by the application of some drying lotion, such as the "Iotio alba" mentioned yesterday, which dries the skin and prevents excessive oil secretion. A stronger paste is needed, but things should not be used except with the advice and supervision of a physician, because these applications sometimes cause considerable inflammation and scaling.

Sasser's method of producing scaling, which is often quite successful, is the use of a paste composed of B-Naphthol, 2½ drams; sulphur, 10 drams; petrolatum, 10 drams; and sapon viridis, each 6½ drams. This is applied thickly to the face after cleansing and allowed to remain for fifteen minutes to an hour, then it is wiped off and a little talcum powder dusted on. Later a ten to twenty per cent resorcin powder is applied and allowed to remain overnight. This is done once or twice a week. The condition may be very uncomfortable for a day or two and the treatment is not to be used too often.

The general health should also be improved. Any digestive disorder or constipation should be corrected. Indigestion, these conditions are of serious importance. Anemia, which is often present, should be corrected by taking iron-building compounds. The exposure of the skin to X-ray is frequently of great benefit. The X-ray causes a shrinking up of the sebaceous glands and checks up formation, but it cannot be used often or for too long a period.

Good food, plenty of vegetables with milk, butter, and lean beef and outdoor exercise will be a great help. Persistence in treatment is essential.

QUERY: "Lunzer" says that he had tuberculosis in the first stage and had spent six months in the State Sanatorium. He was informed that collapsing the lung was very beneficial in selected cases and necessary in some. He was also told that the gas could later be let out and the lung would function properly and asks if his information is correct.

Yes, your information is correct, if you are certain of your selected cases. The hesitancy many of us have felt in recommending the operation of collapsing the involved lung has risen from the fact that many of the results were tragically disappointing. Reports received in my office within the last week from several sanatoriums are more encouraging, indeed, almost hopeful. In many cases, the process of collapsing, or of breaking up adhesions where necessary, has brought decided relief.

The lung is collapsed by the use of either gas or air. It frequently does not need to be let out afterwards, but is slowly absorbed. The operation is not necessary nor advisable in old cases. Only those physicians who are in constant touch with these cases should determine when and how to proceed.

Guide to Charm

BROW-PLUCKING SHOULD FOLLOW CURVE OF EYE

By JACQUELINE HUNT

EVERY woman who wants to be more glamorous should learn some of the tricks of eye make-up practiced by Hollywood's more beautiful and popular stars. These women know that lovely eyes give them individuality and charm. They know how arched and thinned eyebrows express sophistication and how a briefer, brow is young and appealing.

Not every woman can stand arched, plucked brows, of course, but every woman can modify the shape of her eyebrows to suit her face. If they happen to be striking, or she can emphasize the best lines by plucking away the stray hairs.

Eye-brow plucking is usually a rather painful process that women would like to avoid. Some of you also complain that tiny eruptions appear at the spot where the hairs were removed.

Both conditions are due to improper methods of using your tweezers. In the first place you should have the good tweezers—tweezers with a firm grip and properly shaped tips.

There are some new tweezers on the market that will interest you. One kind is automatic. You just extend the tips, take hold of the hair to be removed, press a little button and zipl the hair is out painlessly before you know it. Another kind has little handles like scissors and do not interfere with your vision while you are working. The firm grip and the shape make eyebrow plucking an easy job.

Sterilize your tweezers before you use them so that no foreign matter or germs will be carried to the minute open wounds where each hair is removed. And do your tweezing carefully. Before you start the process, smooth cold cream over the brows for a few minutes to hold the hair in place. Washcloth squeezed out of hot water over the brow areas to open and relax the pores.

Moisten a soft eyebrow brush and brush the hairs into line. Then you are ready for the plucking itself. Since natural eyebrows are best for most of us, remove only the hairs outside the natural line that give it a scraggly, uneven appearance.

Often by plucking away more of the hairs beneath the main arch or out toward the tips of the brows you can get a better natural line. Remember that the natural brow line conforms to the bony contour of the eye socket.

Always remove the hairs that grow across the bridge of the nose and those that grow out toward the temples. The hairs between your brows are especially offending since they give you a beetling, not-so-wide-awake appearance.

As a final step sponge the eyebrows with alcohol, which has an antiseptic to tighten the pores and eliminate as far as possible any danger of germ infection.

"Unfriendly Chins" If you have one you will be interested in our new leaflet on exercises and treatments for eradicating double chin and sagging chin lines. Just send a stamped self-addressed envelope and this notice.

Thirty-two-Year-Old Bishop Takes Charge of a Million Catholics

ADVANCEMENT in the field of the church is customarily a prerequisite of advancing years, particularly in the Roman Catholic hierarchy, but the unusual career of Raymond A. Kearney is another sign that even in this most conservative of callings the old order changes day by day.

The Most Reverend Raymond A. Kearney, S.T.D., although only 32 years old, was recently consecrated as auxiliary bishop of the Diocese of Brooklyn, N. Y. He is the youngest bishop in the world, and the only Catholic bishop born in the twentieth century.

Bishop Kearney was born in St. Bridget's parish in Jersey City, across the Hudson from New York.

As a child in Brooklyn, his family moved, Bishop Kearney started at once to am his life for the priesthood, and after an education that carried him through Holy Cross, in 1923 and through studies for the priesthood in Rome, he was ordained in 1927 in the ancient Archdiocese of St. John the QUESTION: "My skin seems to be thin and sensitive, yet it is quite oily. I would like to try a facial mask of some kind, since I can't find an astringent that is really effective."

—Mrs. Doremus.

I believe you will find a mask helpful for toning your sluggish skin and improving its health. A different cleansing method might also hasten the improvement. First cleanse your skin with a quick-melting cream and then wash with bland soap and water and rinse thoroughly. Have you tried a simple astringent made at home from equal parts of boracic acid solution and witch hazel? This is good for your kind of skin. Once a week, use a mask of almond meal mixed with a paste of skimmed milk. Allow to dry on your skin and wash away with warm water and a soft cloth. This will tone the stimulation and correct the tendency to oiliness.

Ever-Popular Wing Chair

Originally wings were added to the backs of chairs for the purpose of keeping off drafts, but like so many utilitarian features they were attractive and from the early times to this day the wing chair is one type which has lost none of its popularity.

The style of the wing has changed to a certain extent. It has been cut down considerably, for unless one wishes to be faithfully traditional in her furnishings, there is not the necessity for the wide spread of the original style.

Frankfurters with Soup

For a delicious and filling soup, add one quart of milk with a small onion minced. Add the milk slowly to two and one-half cups of rice potatoes, beating constantly. Add two tablespoons melted butter, salt, celery salt and pepper. Season, one tablespoon chopped parsley and one-half cup chopped frankfurters. Cook until the soup is thickened. This will serve six.

Hot Baked Bean Sandwiches

Melt two tablespoons butter in a skillet, and one-half cup washed uncooked rice and stir until the rice is light brown. Add one sliced onion and cook for two minutes. Then add a No. 3 can of tomatoes, a tablespoon salt, a dash of pepper, one tablespoon sugar, six whole cloves and a bayleaf. Cover and cook for 15 minutes. Then add your frankfurters on a hot slightly greased frying pan until nicely browned. Serve on a hot platter surrounded by the rice and by tomatoes that have been dipped into fine salted bread crumbs and browned in butter. This makes one of the ever-popular one-dish meals.

Frankfurter-Bean Salad

Mix together two cups of baked beans, drained of all juice, three-fourths cup finely chopped celery, two tablespoons chopped green pepper and three frankfurters that have been peeled and chopped. Add salt to taste and a dash of cayenne pepper. Blend one tablespoon prepared horseradish to three tablespoons mayonnaise, blend with the other ingredients and chill thoroughly. Serve generous portions in large lettuce cups. This will make five servings.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "How much should one leave as a tip for checking a hat and coat in a restaurant?"

—Joe McE.

ANSWER: If the prices in the dining room are quite modest, the tip may be only ten or fifteen cents. In a better restaurant, however, a man who leaves his hat and coat generally leaves a tip of twenty-five cents, and a woman checking her coat would do the same. At a season when overcoats are not worn, a man leaving his hat at the check room usually leaves a tip of ten cents.

THE SCHOOL CHILD

QUESTION: "When a vegetable is served in a patte shell, the patte shell to be eaten or is it just for decoration?"

—M.J.B.

ANSWER: You may eat it if you wish, or leave it alone. Decorative touches or garnishes are to be eaten when edible.

Short Cuts

QUESTION: "May iced cup cakes be eaten with the fingers, or is a fork necessary?"

—G. H.

ANSWER: A fork is necessary for cake that is iced. Small firm cakes called petits fours are the exception to this rule. They are eaten with the fingers.

The bed, upholstered in plaid of brown, yellow and grey, has a bedspread of brown linen, box pleated on the sides in a series of larger pleats graduating to smaller ones. The hangings are of grey woolen with plaid cornice and banding. The polo mallets form an interesting decoration.

MODERN WOMEN

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

When Husband and Wife Work in the Same Office Jealousy Is Dangerous For a Daily Diet

DEAR MRS. MARTIN: I have a problem that concerns the future welfare of two people and might therefore be likened to an egg with two yolks. My wife and I worked in the same office when we were married and we have since continued to hold our positions. I wished my wife to give up her position when we were married but she pointed out that in order to live in a manner that she described as "impressive" our joint incomes would be required. I was willing enough to have her continue her work, which brings us in an additional $25 a week, her duties being of a clerical character.

"Everything went along well enough for a time, but after three months of married life my wife began to develop a jealous streak. Every time I joked a bit with the other girls around the office she would find fault, usually having it out with me on the street car at night. She had never behaved in such a manner when we were engaged and I am at a loss to understand why she has suddenly assumed a disagreeable attitude. When I answer the telephone she demands full particulars and if I am a bit jocular with some business man's secretary she seems to suspect the worst.

"It is strange she never acted this way before we were married, but she is certainly making up for lost time now. The other day she jumped on me in front of several co-workers in the office and they all snickered as though they enjoyed my position. When we arrived home that night I lost my temper and said things possibly that were a bit harsh. But I am not sorry that I did so inasmuch as she had been asking for it for weeks. I suggested to my wife on this occasion that she find herself a job elsewhere, but this seemed to enrage her more than anything I could have said.

"My greatest problem is that I cannot go on living in terror of what may happen at the office. I encounter a great many women in one way or another and if I cannot keep on good terms with some of them I will be of no use to my firm. When I outline this angle of the situation to my wife she only sneers and insists that she is 'wise to my alibi.'

"I am trying to find another position but I succeed in doing so I must take a smaller salary. I am losing my standing in the office and people are laughing behind my back. Do not think I have a persecution complex such as we read about in the cases of crazy people. I do not want to lose my wife or my job but this sort of thing cannot go on.

"Do you know if any steps I could take to bring my wife to her senses? I am not a flirt and I hope I am not a clown. What can I do to allay this jealousy that is slowly driving me out of a good job?

"Assistant Sales Manager."

THAT you are to be pitied is self-evident, but your wife deserves a little pity too. I don't defend her—on the contrary, I feel very strongly that she is doing you a grave injustice—but one must admit that jealousy is a sort of disease.

I would like to suggest having your wife psychoanalyzed, thus getting at the root of what is the cause of her jealousy. Since jealous people are most unhappy I should think she would be willing to do anything to overcome this devastating frame of mind.

I also would like to suggest that you use your influence with your employer to get your wife transferred to some other department, or even to lay her off.

That last drastic measure would cost you $200 a year, and unless you can make this up to her it is a far from fair method. But you have a right to protect your own job, I think, and by it you support yourself and your wife. Let us hope that you can deal firmly with her and bring her to her senses without resorting to any such measures. I cannot see why you should give up your position and advise you not to consider it at all.

Why this jealous streak in her nature has come to the surface since marriage you yourself know better than I. Unpleasant though it may be, I suggest that you watch your step with your office associates. A jealous woman is a dangerous one. Let us hope that she can be cured, for remember that she herself is suffering.

OIL TANKERS STILL MOVING IN BIG STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—UP—While the Marine Federation convention in Seattle held the spotlight for a possible general spread of the long drawn Pacific Coast tanker strike, cargoes moved to more vessels here and workers issued a statement denying their rank was breaking.

John H. Paxson, member of the local union committee of the Sailors Union declared "the statement men are returning to work is pure propaganda."

"They are not returning to work," the solidarity of the strength behind this strike has thrown a scare into the oil tanker group," he asserted. "They have approached individual union men offering unusual inducements, but they have not with a convincing solidarity."

Powers asserted that the companies were unable to obtain crews. He also declared the responsibility of peace was up to them.

COMPROMISE AGREED ON BY SOLONS

ministration and Congress.

PATMAN BILL

The Patman bill calls for issuance of non-interest bearing treasury notes or "greenbacks" for immediate payment in full of the $2,300,000,000 in adjusted service certificates. It was reported that the Harrison proposal could cost the government a maximum of $700,000,000 if all veterans took advantage of an opportunity to cash their certificates at once. The amount would be much less if the veterans delayed action until 1928.

The manner in which the $700,000,000 estimate was made could not be learned. However, Senators associated with veterans legislation said it no doubt included the amount of interest the government would save by advancing the maturity date for some and paying immediate cash to others.

IN CONFERENCE

President Roosevelt's willingness to compromise on the bonus issue came as a surprise. Administration spokesmen have said repeatedly that the Chief Executive would stand firm in his announced position that veterans as a class have been better treated by the government than any other group of American citizens.

Harrison conferred with the Chief Executive at length yesterday afternoon and with Representative Wright Patman, Democrat, Texas, author of the Patman bill today.

Two Men Held In Nude Photo Fraud

NEW YORK, April 15.—UP—A nude picture extortion ring, which preyed on society women, including Doris Duke, world's richest girl, was revealed tonight. Arthur Ullrich, 24, and Domenico Pietri, 25, were in jail for confession of participation in the racket. Police discredited as servants of wealth Mrs. George Upham Harris, captured them as they left her mansion with a package they thought contained $5,000. This sum had been demanded of the young social leader on threats of showing her husband a cleverly faked photograph of Mrs. Harris, nude, in the arms of a man, likewise naked.

Doris Duke was threatened by the same gang just before her recent marriage to James Cromwell, police said.

Tornado Ravaged

SPRING TORNADOES, tracing an erratic pattern of death and destruction through Louisiana and Mississippi, left at least 34 dead and 150 injured. Here is an air view of Gloster, Miss., showing roofless homes and other wreckage. Hundreds of homeless here were housed in box cars and in city hall.

EASTERN AREA HARD HIT BY COLD WEATHER

CHICAGO, April 15.—UP—Cold blasts and snowstorms chased spring out of the middlewest today and moved rapidly eastward. The unseasonable weather, extended from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians. Temperatures as low as zero were reported in the northwest. Snow covered budding vegetation in many states.

A 40-mile wind lashed the Great Lakes region. Authorities despaired of saving two fishermen, lost on Lake Superior in a small skiff which broke from its moorings yesterday. Weather forecasters predicted a killing frost for tonight. Tree blossoms and garden plants already were destroyed in southeastern Nebraska, southern Iowa, central Illinois and much of Indiana. The temperature fell 50 degrees to the low 20s in St. Paul within 24 hours, where high winds blew in plate glass windows, and snow and sleet made traffic hazardous. A blizzard was reported in Manitoba and western Canadian provinces. The mercury dropped to four below zero at Edmonton, Alta. Cutbank Mont. was coldest in the United States, with a low of zero.

A low of 20 degrees was predicted tonight for Chicago, where heavy snow fell through the day. Milwaukee reported the coldest April 15 on record, with the mercury at -20.

STORE IS ROBBED

Liquor and other merchandise valued at $125 was stolen from the Mira Vista Wine House at 470 Sar. Pahl, avenue on Sunday night when the place was entered by burglars, according to reports made to police.

Labor Protests Training Plan For Constables

MARTINEZ, April 15.—A request by the Contra Costa Police Officers Association that provision be made for compensation of deputies, appointed by constables, for services in emergencies, precipitated a lengthy and acrimonious discussion at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors today. Protests were lodged by representatives of 21 unions, who voiced the belief that the plan was to be used for strikebreaking.

The union was not referred to District Attorney Healey for an opinion as to the legality of paying deputy constables.

The enactment of an anti-striking ordinance was requested by agricultural interests of the eastern section of the county. The action will be in conflict with the meeting of the board on May 6th. Charges that "union and ex-convicts" have been hired for duty in industrial plants were made by W. C. Riley of Orem and Patrick Lydon of Martinez. The union spokesman, who also included J. H. Stevens and J. E. Christiansen, indicated belief that the association was industry inspired, protested "free lance trouble makers," said "summen had been brought into the county to intimidate workers" and viewed with "open suspicion statements that the force to be named by the constables would be given training by an army reserve officer. "Training" they viewed as training with gas bombs and deadly weapons. Colonel C. F. Sanborn, who has offered to train officers for the association, said he was a reserve officer and as such was concerned with civil authorities being capable of handling any situation that might arise and minimize the chance of a situation that might demand a call for the national guard.

A formal protest was made by the Contra Costa County Central Trades Council against the appropriation of money to train and equip any additional constables.

PLOT TO KILL THREE CHIEFS IS UNCOVERED

GENEVA, April 15.—UP—A wholesale assassination plot with Benito Mussolini and high diplomats of three other countries, the intended victims was revealed today.

French police reported that Geneva authorities the arrest of three anarchists at Marseilles, charged with plotting to kill the Italian premier at the Stresa peace conference in a week, and, failing in this objective, to assassinate Foreign Minister Pierre Laval of France, Foreign Minister Edouard Benes of Czechoslovakia and Foreign Minister Nicolas Titulescu of Roumania during the extraordinary Council meeting at Geneva.

Swiss police immediately redoubled precautions to safeguard these and other statesmen here for the extraordinary Council session on German rearmament. Patrols along the frontier and in Geneva were reinforced, and the delegates heavily guarded as they went to and from their hotels and the conference hall.

Swiss authorities were inclined to believe the plot reports exaggerated, but for safety's sake left nothing undone to prevent such a tragedy as occurred when King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France were shot in Marseilles last October.

Subsequent advices tonight said the suspects had been arrested elsewhere than Marseilles. Those arrested were said to include Rudolph Gamscher, an Italian anarchist, and Ida Caroni, woman accomplice.

Mussolini possibly heard of a plot prior to the Stresa conference with British and French statesmen last week, for when they arrived for a peace gathering they found an extraordinary martial display in the little resort town. Troops lined the streets and planes patrolled overhead.

NRA Ruling Near Congress Is Told

WASHINGTON, April 15.—UP—The Supreme Court today assured Congress of a ruling on the constitutionality of NRA wage and hour provisions before the expiration of the recovery act June 16. It agreed to hear argument May 2 on the Schechter poultry case.

This means that barring some unforeseen development, Congress will have some guide as to its NRA extension legislation in time to act on it as the decision is made.

Council To Act On Dairy Law Saturday

best of milk, but it cannot be produced under unsanitary conditions. Any check on milk cannot be too critical. The speaker advised the council to be guided by judgment of its health officers.

BLAKE SPEAKS

Dr. C. R. Blake, city health officer, said that it was impossible to suit everyone. It has never been done and never will. "We got up an ordinance about a year ago," said the official, "that we thought was about right. It was endorsed by the state health board, and cities in all parts of the state have asked for copies of it. At that time there were 94 persons in the city keeping cows; half of them kept more than one, with the result a limit of two was decided upon, believing that number would furnish any family with all of the milk it could use. Now a few come before the council and ask to have the city rezoned so that in some parts of the city there would be no limit to the cows that could be kept."

"For ten years I worked to rid the city of dairies, and am opposed to their being permitted to return. Richmond is a very healthy city because our sanitary regulations are enforced. With the return of dairies would come millions of flies, and flies are the greatest carriers of disease known. It is not right for a few people to ask a change in our law that would jeopardize the lives of thousands of people."

PROBLEM FOR CITY

Councilman W. W. Scott said the dairy problem was one that had been before the municipal authorities for years. "It is all right for a family to keep one or two cows for its own use, but they should not be permitted to sell the milk, unless they have the necessary sanitary facilities that comply with our ordinance."

Miss Mary Capra, daughter of John Capra, pleaded for her father, claiming that the small dairy he operated was the only way he had of making a living for his family and educating his children. She said that he would comply with the provisions of the ordinance.

Otto Thole, said he knew the Capra place, that there was plenty of open space in the southern section of the city, and thought that Capra should be permitted to sell his milk without hindrance.

Councilman Walter Johnson and A. B. Hinkley, said they did not want to see an injustice done to anyone, and suggested the special meeting for a thorough discussion of the problem before final action was taken.

New Men For CCC Camps Enrolling

WASHINGTON, April 15.—UP—The Government today began its new attack on unemployment under the work relief fund by starting enrollment of 110,000 young men in the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Armed with an initial $30,000,000 of the fund, the corps offered jobs on soil erosion, reforestation and other public works projects to replace men whose terms of enlistment ended early this month and to restore the CCC to its recent average strength of 553,000.

Later, after new camps are constructed, the corps will be raised to 600,000, doubling its effectiveness, the Administration hopes.

President Roosevelt worked under pressure all day to clear away Administration details connected with getting the funds into operation. The White House indicated the problem of personnel of the Administrative Board was a simple one compared with the problem of putting the $4,880,000,000 actually to work providing jobs. The President will not announce his selections of officials for some time, it was said.

Sheriff Raids 3 Resorts On Sunday Night

Deputy sheriffs late Sunday night raided an El Cerrito and two San Pablo resorts, arresting several persons.

At the Rancho San Pablo in El Cerrito, W. M. Pechart, Jules Goldenhine, George Danforth, Joe Cook, Thomas Rezan and George Warren were arrested on charges of violating state gambling laws. Pechart had his bail set at $500 while others had their bail fixed at $100.

Gambling equipment, including roulette wheels, dice tables and blackjack layouts were seized and in addition about $800 was taken by the raiders. Few patrons were present during the raid, due to the storm.

In San Pablo, Kay Felton, Alma Wilson and Lorraine Wilson were arrested at the Green Birch while Beatrice Clampton, Alice Lannin and George Richards were arrested at another establishment. Both places were raided last week and seven women were arrested. Those taken in Sunday night's raids had bail set at $100 each and were freed when they furnished it.

It was reported that complaints by CCC officials at the San Pablo dam road camp inspired the raids on the two San Pablo resorts.

Officers who took part in the raids were Sheriff John A. Miller and Deputies George Burton, Al Davies, Ralph Harrison, Thomas Smith, Hugh Armstrong, Norman Wilson and Sal Jimmo and Melvin Myatt, special investigator for the district attorney's office.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—A woman who "flagged" her auto at Genry and Laguna streets and then produced a pistol, robbed Louis Margolis, 141 Eddy street, of $50 with the aid of a male accomplice early today. The pair also took four ladies' suits and coats.

denunciation of treaty obligations, thus censuring Germany's action.

LAUD STRESSA

Their communique "noted with satisfaction the effort just accomplished" at Stresa, and emphasized that these states "attach special importance to the imminent conclusion of treaties of mutual assistance in Northeastern Europe."

These ententes include Roumania, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Greece and Turkey.

The startling Turkish assertion was voiced by the Turkish delegate, Tewfik Rushdi Aras, who also is chairman of the council. He told the French at luncheon that Turkey also is a vanquished nation, and hence has the same rearmament rights as Germany, Austria or Bulgaria.

Ickes Lauds New Deal's Handouts

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—UP—The New Deal's answer to charges of failure to balance the budget, made by former budget director, Lewis W. Douglas, was presented today by Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes.

"To my way of thinking it is more important in these times, to preserve the morale of the people than it is to balance a set of books," said Ickes, speaking before the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

Douglas' charges were made from the same platform just a month ago. His attacks on PWA expenditures were characterized by Ickes as "economic sclerosis."

LIGGETT AND MYERS TOBACCO COMPANY

A man who visited a Chesterfield factory recently, said: "Now that I have seen Chesterfields made, I understand better than ever why people say Chesterfields are milder and have a better taste."

If you too could visit our factories you could see the clean, airy surroundings; the employees in their sportless uniforms, and the modern cigarette making machinery.

You could notice how carefully each Chesterfield cigarette is inspected and see also how Chesterfields are practically untouched by human hands.

Whenever you happen to be in Richmond, Va., Durham, N. C., or San Francisco, California, we invite you to stop at the Liggett & Myers plants and see how Chesterfields are made.
